Q2. Read the following passage and answer the questions at the end.

The history of the modern world is a record of highly varied activity, of incessant change, and of astonishing achievement. The lives of men have, during the last few centuries, become increasingly diversified, their powers have greatly multiplied, their horizon has been enormously enlarged. New interests have arisen in rich profusions to absorb attention and to provoke exertion. New aspirations and new emotions have come to move the soul of men. Amid all the bewildering phenomena, interest, in particular, has stood out in a clear and growing pre-eminence, has expressed itself in a multitude of ways, and with an emphasis more and more pronounced, namely, the determination of the race to gain a large measure of freedom than it has ever known before, freedom in the life of the intellect and spirit, freedom in the realm of government and law, freedom in the sphere of economic and social relationships. A passion that has prevailed so widely, that has transformed the world so greatly, and is still transforming it, is one that surely merits study and abundantly rewards it. Its operations constitute the very pith and marrow of modern history.

Not that this passion was unknown to the long ages that preceded the modern periods. The ancient Hebrews, the ancient Greeks and Romans blazed the way leaving behind them a precious heritage of accomplishments and suggestions, and the men who were responsible for Renaissance of the fifteenth century and the reformation of the sixteenth century contributed their imperishable part to this slow and difficult emancipation of the human race. But it is in modern times that the pace and vigour, the scope and sweep of this liberal movement have so increased unquestionably as to determine the age, particularly the last three centuries that have registered great triumphs of spirit.

- Q1. What has been the most dominant passion of human race during the last three centuries?
- Q2. What, according to the author, is the history of the modern world a record of?
- Q3. In what period of the history of the world have the lives of men become increasingly diversified?
- Q4. In what areas do you think have the power of men greatly multiplied during the last few centuries?
- Q5. The horizon of the lives of the men has been greatly increased. What does it mean?
- Q6. What kinds of freedoms have been mentioned in the passage?
- Q7. The operation of which factors constitutes the pith and marrow of modern history?

OR

Write a composition starting with any one of the following lines.

- (1) It was usually men who asked me why I did it.

- (a) To drive home (b) To pick holes (c) To have an axe to grind
(d) A hard nut to crack (e) Cold blood (f) A snake in the grass
(g) A prophet of doom (h) Rank and file (i) Bolt from the blue
(k) Allow the dust to settle (l) Goes without saying (m) To take to one's heels
(n) To cut the Gordian knot (o) To take with a pinch of salt

Q4. Read the following passage carefully and write a précis of it.

The true problem of city planning and rebuilding in a free society is—how to cultivate city districts that are free, lively and fertile places for the differing plans of thousands of individuals, not planners. Nothing could be farther from the aims of the planners today. They have been trained to think of people as interchangeable statistics to be pushed around, to think of city vitality and mixture as a mess. Planners are the enemies of cities because they offer us only the poisonous promise of making every place in a city more like dull and standardized morning side heights. They have failed to pursue the main point: to study the success and failure of the real life of the cities. With their eyes on simple minded panaceas, they destroy success and health. Planners will become helpful only when they abandon what they have learned about 'ought' to be good for cities.

Q5. Translate the following into English.

انسانی معاشرے میں زبان ایک نہایت اہم کردار ادا کرتی ہے۔
جسے کبھی کسی وقت اور کسی زبان میں نظر انداز نہیں کیا جاسکتا
اور دراصل یہی زبان قوموں کے کلیہ کی عیافتی ہے۔

یعنی مختلف اقوام کی ثقافت اور لہجہ ہیں زندہ رہنے
کیلئے ایک زبان کی محتاج ہیں۔ ماہرین لسانیات اکثر اس بات
پر متفق ہیں کہ کسی معاشرے میں زبان صحت اور صحت جانے
کے بعد ثقافت بھی مہر جاتی ہے۔

سوال نمبر ۲: مندرجہ ذیل اقتباس کا سبب اردو ترجمہ کریں۔ (۳۰)

There come such moments in the ups and downs of life when a person loses all hopes.
He sees darkness every where. His power to face difficulties fails. This thing is against the dignity of man. The entire development of this world is due to that will and determination which God has bestowed upon him. Man should never lose heart, but should face his failures boldly. A day will come when Allah will surely give him success.

رنج کی جب گفتگو ہونے لگی
آپ سے تم، تم سے تو ہونے لگی

چاہیے پیغام ہر دونوں طرف
لطف کیا جب دو بد ہونے لگی

میری رسوائی کی نوبت آگئی
ان کی شہرت کو بکو ہونے لگی

ہے تری تصویر کتنی بے حجاب
ہر کسی کے رو برو ہونے لگی۔
